POLICY REFORM TO REDUCE BARRIERS TO THE MARITIME TRANSPORTATION SYSTEM

There are a variety of potential barriers to increasing trade and traffic on the Maritime Transportation (MTS), and some of these barriers can be influenced by policymakers. Such policy-relevant barriers to increasing trade and traffic include the seasonal closures of the system, complex customs regulations, and a fragmented regulatory framework.

Seasonality
Complex Customs and Border Patrol Regulations
A Fragmented Regulatory Framework
Pilotage

ISSUE
Maritime Transportation

TYPE
Strategy