

Blue Accounting

OHIO: WATER INFRASTRUCTURE IN UNDERSERVED AREAS

The Ohio Environmental Protection Agency funds infrastructure projects through H2Ohio that will improve water quality, which includes extending sewers to areas with high concentrations of failing home sewage treatment systems. The first project in the Lake Erie basin will construct a new waterwater collection and treatment system in Kunkle, Ohio, within the Maumee River watershed.

TYPE

Investment

ISSUE

ErieStat
